ANALYSIS

Rutte is the smallest distillery in Holland that happens to be partnered with one of the nation's largest distilleries, De Kuyper Royal Distillers. For 143 years Rutte has made its home in the historic port city of Dordrecht, The Netherlands. Their artisanal spirits are made entirely with natural ingredients. The Rutte Old Simon Genever offers a unique flavor profile that includes roasted nuts among the botanicals.

VALUE GRADE

The Rutte Gins are not cheap but that's not the point. These are true artisan products and I am confident the Gin lovers will find these Gins to be worth every penny. Grade - B

TALKING POINTS

FROM RUTTE

The founder of our distillery, Simon Rutte, made Genevers and liqueurs from the beginning. Truly a recipe from his hand, Old Simon Genever preserves his legacy and distilling traditions.

IN THE GLASS

Appearance: Brilliant, crystal clear.

Aromatics: The nose is very unctuous and malty with scents of grains in the lead supported by hints of roasted nuts and spices (coriander and subtle caraway notes) with soft citrus and juniper accents.

Flavor: The palate echoes the nose delivering a lush and silky texture that gives life to the toasted spice core with the caraway really accentuated.

Intensity & Texture: Full-bodied with a rich, nearly chewy, malty, and grain core supported by bright juniper, spice, and notes of hazelnut.
